

Arlington Advises Bravo Food Service on its Sale to Four Foods Group

Birmingham, AL – March 31, 2017 Arlington Capital Advisors, LLC, and Founders Investment Banking, LLC are pleased to announce that Four Foods Group (FFG) has purchased substantially all of the assets of Bravo Food Service, LLC (Bravo), a leading franchisee of Little Caesars in the Southeast. Bravo's shareholders were advised by Arlington Capital Advisors (Arlington) and Founders Investment Banking (Founders). The transaction was led by Vann Russell of Arlington and Zane Tarence of Founders.

Bravo Food Service was started in 2002 by Ramon Arias, and through organic growth and acquisitions, became one of the nation's largest Little Caesars franchisees with 48 locations across Alabama and Louisiana.

"The Arias family is excited for the Bravo restaurants to join up with the quickly growing Four Foods Group team. We were impressed by the professionalization and best practices they have implemented with their legacy businesses, and look forward to them continuing to grow the operations and take excellent care of all employees," said Ramon Arias, Founder of Bravo Food Service. "Arlington and Founders worked hard to help us identify the right partner, negotiate terms, and get the transaction done."

For FFG, it represents their first venture east of the Mississippi River, and will enable them to have a foothold for further expansion domestically.

"Bravo Food Service is a leading franchisee of Little Caesars with significant growth potential," said Vann Russell of Arlington Capital Advisors. "We are thrilled to have helped the Arias family find the right steward of the brand and are excited to watch the company grow under its new leadership."

"The Founders and Arlington team enjoyed working with Ramon and his great team on this deal. We received an extremely high amount of interest in this deal, and were glad to help the Bravo team land with a partner that we believe will continue to build upon the culture and impressive employee team that the Arias family has worked over the last 15 years to build," said Zane Tarence, Managing Director at Founders Investment Banking.
